Attached in this document is the Corporate Design that depicts the layout for our Database project titled “Kronos Games”, as well as the imprint page. Our branding colours are red, black and white. Our webpage has a solid black background. The logo consists of a red circular field with a white silhouette of a fire-breathing lion, and it is placed on the top-left corner of the webpage based on the ideas of corporate design. It was designed using Canva. The name of our project “Kronos Games” is placed on the right of the logo. On the top-right corner we have a section having two buttons “Sign In” and “Create Account” (not functional yet) for creating an account and logging into an account.

Below the title we have a navigation bar with the following links: Home (the landing or index page), Catalog (an entity of our Entity Relation Diagram), News (a static web page) containing news about gaming and the Disclaimer page (containing the necessary imprint information for our assignment). The Catalog button contains a drop-down menu which has a list featuring the various game genre types, such as Action, Shooting, Fantasy and so on (doesn’t contain all of the genres for now). The Catalog will provide a means to explore the website’s game library through the various genres and so on. The Nav bar is common to all the pages the website will have except the Login and Registration pages. The various elements of the nav bar will redirect the user to the respective web pages.

The body section of the web page contains cards that feature published games (An Entity) and their description (attribute of the Game Entity) and also Ratings (the attribute Score) of the respective games. These are the featured games. We also have the game of the year “War of Aphrodite” which is the highest rated game by critiques in our Catalog.

The footer contains Contact Info of the people responsible for the site. It also contains the disclaimer in addition to the disclaimer having its own page.
